00:00:10	Paulette	Hello, my name is Paulette. I can't quite believe I'm saying this, but as of Monday 18 th January 2016, I will be a very mature, part-time PhD student studying at the Centre for Trust, Peace and Social Relations
00:00:30		at Coventry University. My PhD will focus upon the development of future global leaders. As Lao Tzu reminded us, a journey of a thousand miles must always begin with a first step. So I'm really pleased to be able to Vlog with jobs.ac.uk and share with you my very first steps on this PhD
00:01:00		journey. So that will include sharing with you the very first tasks, perhaps early challenges and how I overcome them, but hopefully also the joys of starting this journey. So I look forward to sharing my first steps with you through the next four weeks as we look at my steps at the
00:01:30		beginning of this PhD journey.
